BEWARE! DANGEROUS INTERSECTION?

Bi-Partisan solution lies ahead!

Everyone who has ever traveled through the area knows that the King Road and Telegraph Road intersection in Brownstown Township is dangerous. Many accidents, too many fatal accidents, have occurred over the years. But a "fix" is nearly at hand. Lives will be spared.

Great. What is the fix and who is responsible, you ask? The answers: Improvements will be made by MDOT due to the bi-Partisan efforts of Senator Bruce Patterson (R - 7th Senate District) and Senator Raymond Basham (D - 8th Senate District) to gain funding through the budget/appropriations process, and the work at the county level by Commissioner Ed Boike and Wayne County Executive Robert Ficano.

"It is terrific when we put aside our partisan differences, especially in an election year, and all work together for the betterment of Downriver." - proclaimed Sen. Patterson.

Local officials, Trustee John Cronin, Treasurer Diane Philpot, and Supervisor Art Wright are all to be commended, as well as Brownstown Economic Development Director Joe DiSanto, for without their commitment the project would not have happened.
